Volume VII

Published by
SENIOR CLASS
Lowe's Grove High School

Foreword

We, the class of '51 proudly present this eighth issue of the Logrovette. May this book ever keep alive the wonderful years spent at Lowe's Grove.

Dedication

We, the Senior Class of nineteen hundred and fifty-one, do gratefully dedicate this volume of the Logrovette to our friend and teacher, Mrs. Mollie C. Keesee. We express to her our sincerest appreciation and gratitude for the help and guidance she has so willingly given us.

Class Prophecy

It is now the year 1961 and as I sit here before the blazing fire in my living room my eyes focused on the television set, the first face that flashes upon the screen is that of my old school chum, Winfred Stallings. He is now Durham's beloved "Country Boy" and is still advertising the Miracle Medicine of the century, Hadacol. With a quick turn of the dial, whose face should I see? Ah! None other than that of the great Ray Shipp. Back in our old school days would you have thought Ray Shipp would ever be a success at anything? Neither did I, but now Ray is a very successful minister and has his own Gospel Hour each evening. Could my eyes be fooling me or do I see Frances Freeman? Yes, it is Frances Freeman directing the choir before a multitude. Well this is just about as much as my old decrepit heart can stand. After the Gospel Hour was over my nerves were quieted by the sweet sound of Vernard Dampier's voice, who has now taken the place of age old Vaughn Monroe. The music was so soothing and the fire so warm that without realizing it I drifted off into a deep slumber only to be awakened by the hillbilly voice of Edna Earle Jackson, the Minnie Pearle of 1961. After she had introduced her new song, "Still Looking for a Man," Mrs. Keesee's little boy, Dolie Clayton, took his place on the stage. Dolie now holds the title of Hillbilly King, having left Eddie Arnold behind "Many Tears Ago."

Well I've had all of this I can stand for one evening and since I have a date to go dining and dancing at the Waldorf Astoria with its owner, Wayne Watkins, I guess I had better get on the ball and get dressed.

After quickly, but carefully dressing, I sat down with the intention of relaxing, but before I could settle down I was interrupted by the insistant ringing of the doorbell. In hobbled Dorothy Elliott Baker and her six sets of twins. The very nerve of her asking me to keep those twelve little monsters while she steps out with the Casanova of the Town, Herbert Barbee! One insult sent her down the street raving mad, stopping only long enough to buy a bag of peanuts from the poor old peanut vender, A. T. Barbee. The bell chimes again and this time it's the one I formerly expected, Wayne, in tails, top hat, cigar, and all the extras. The limousine had so many doors that I jumped in the front seat only to be humiliated by the scowling face of the chauffeur, A. R. Rich. We encountered two of the most handsome doormen I have ever seen who were also two of my old school mates, Billy Rorie and Boyce Moize. My but it's a miracle how much weight one can put on in ten years! As soon as we arrived we were horrified to see the husky bouncer, Orus Freeman, tossing out two of our most outstanding classmates—Carver High and Peggy Swanson. Would you have ever thought that two such lovely people would have created such a disturbance in public? The floor show began with Maestro Billy O'Briant introducing Irving Berlin's latest song hit, "Rudolph the Red Nosed Reindeer" with Juanita Riggs doing the vocal. The next number on the show was really a surprise. Really folks, you would never have recognized Jean Dhue. She has been with the Ballet Russe for five years, and appeared in Monte Carlo some years ago. I would have enjoyed this ballet if I had not been constantly annoyed by the frequent visits of two cigarette girls, Peggy Watkins and Gladys Maynard, dressed in the most extreme costumes of the day. After dancing several times to the sweetest music this side of the Pacific, I was escorted back to my apartment.

To my horror as soon as I opened the door I realized that I had left my television set on. Shirley Russell was pinch-hitting for Dorothy Dix. Never in my life had I heard such a fuss. After such a hectic day I fell across my bed completely exhausted. What a day!

Class Will

To whom it may concern:

We, the class of 1951, being about to pass out of this sphere of our education and in full possession of crammed minds and well-trained memories, do make and publish this, our last will and testament, praying that you will accept them as a sacred trust from ones who have gone before.

Section I

Item 1. To Mr. Auman, our principal, goes the fondest memories of a class whose companionship we are sure he is to miss in the years to come.

Item 2. To our beloved faculty, we give and bequeath a sweet and unbroken succession of restful nights and peaceful dreams. No longer need they lie awake through the long night wondering if this one is doing her night work, or that one will have her mathematics in the morning classes, or if the other one will remember every iron-clad rule of compositional technique in the preparation of her essay. We also leave to them all the amazing knowledge and startling information that we have furnished them, but we trust they will find some use of these bits either for their own personal enlightenment or for the education of classes to come after us.

Section II

Item 1. To the Juniors, we will our qualities of sophistication and leadership that might help them uphold their new positions as seniors. We also leave them all such boys as were not able to keep pace with such brilliant girls as compose the majority of our class, trusting that the Junior girls may be able to hold firmly to them and steer them firmly next year through the gates of Commencement, that they may not share in the humiliation that has been ours at not being able to "hold our men folks"—as the women of the world would put it.

Item 2. To our beloved school we bequeath our undying love and most loyal devotion. How can we ever forget the eventful years in your halls and classrooms. We shall ever cherish these glorious memories.

Section III

The following may seem but trifling bequests but they are things we have treasured and hope they will be continual reminders of our generous hearts and accepted as valuable assets to the lucky people who receive them:

Item 1. Herbert Barbee leaves Delano Verrichia the privilege to escort Barbara McHaney around next year.

Item 2. Joyce Terry wills Delano Lunsford to Julia Clark.

Item 3. Ray Shipp wills his method of getting out of school plus the key to the office to Joseph High.

Item 4. To Worth Yates, Orus Freeman leaves Patsy McHaney.

Item 5. Peggy Swanson wills her buxom figure to Shirley Markham.

Item 6. To Jean Bryant goes Peggy Watkins' skating ability.

Item 7. Billy O'Briant wills all his girl friends to Dean Dampier.

Item 8. Frances Freeman wills her good grades to Janie Draper.

Item 9. Gladys Maynard's appreciation of good music goes to Mr. Goodwin.

Item 10. To Shirley Dean goes Juanita Riggs' shyness.

Item 11. Dorothy Elliott wills her sense of humor to Edna Kelly.

Item 12. To Louise Reeves goes Shirley Russell's singing ability.

Item 13. Winifred Stallings will his southern drawl to W. D. Wynne.

Item 14. Doyle Clayton wills his A-Model to anyone who can make a right-turn without turning over.

Item 15. Edna Earle Jackson wills the Plymouth in her life to anyone who can hold it in the road.

Item 16. To Troy Bowling, Wayne Watkins wills his boisterous manner.

Item 17. Boyce Moize leaves his true school spirit to Charles Allen and Delano Lunsford.

Item 18. A. T. Barbee wills his faithfulness to James Hamlet.

Item 19. Vernard Dampier wills his manly physique to Roy Way.

Item 20. To Mary Auman goes Jean Dhue's quietness and her ability to get along with teachers.

Item 21. Carver High wills his curls and love for airplanes to Bobby Hodges.

Item 22. To Billy Lewter goes A. R. Rich's good sportsmanship in volley ball.

Item 23. Billy Rorie will his crew-cut to Paul Fogleman.

Class History

As the shades fall over the fifty-fifth year in the history of Lowe's Grove School another senior class leaves the narrow channel of education and goes forth into the broad ocean of life. We take with us memories of pleasant times which the passing years can never dim. We've had many trials and hardships and also many gains. And now as we are about to step forth into life we are happy and yet, sad as we look back and think about the members who entered school with us that are gone. Some of these members stopped school, others transferred to other schools, but death took one of our members. This member was Wilma Copeland, a girl who always smiled and had a word of cheer for everyone.

We entered high school in the fall of 1947 as a group of thirty-eight. Under the guidance of our homeroom teacher and advisor, Mrs. Morgan, we slowly became accustomed to the many hardships of high school life. During the year we had a magazine drive. The proceeds went toward the purchase of a movie projector.

Our sophomore year was a happy one. We began to settle down and take our school work seriously. The main event of the year was ordering our class rings.

During our junior year we gave a play, "The Crazy Smith Family," to raise money for the Junior-Senior Banquet. With the help of Mr. Goodwin, Mrs. Powers, and Miss Olive, the play and the banquet were a success. One of the greatest thrills of the year was receiving our class rings which we had ordered during our sophomore year.

As we enter our final year of school our group is a small but cooperative one. Our first project of the year was ordering our invitations and calling cards. Soon after, we had the Hallowe'en Carnival which, with the aid of the students, teachers, and P.T.A. members was a big success. We also made plans for the senior play.

And now as we are about to take that final step toward entering the door of adult life, we remember our motto, "today we follow, tomorrow we lead."
